

OSCURO

Felton Grey is with Mr. Brooks at the mine near Estey City.

Mr. Seharf has struck water on his claim at twenty feet.

It is only through discontent with the existing order of things that the world has advanced to its present state of civilization.

Mrs. (Mulberry) Burns has returned from a visit to Plano and Chicago, Ill. She reports good crops in that part of the state and fine weather when she left.

Dr. Blaney has had most of the settlers out working on the roads. They did a good job where they worked but there are not people enough to fix all the bad places.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns (deputy Burns) have gone to El Paso. When they return they are going to the mountains hunting for a deer and some quail they lost last summer.

Most of the people here did their duty and took the children to the circus. If all who went from Oscura and vicinity had been put in cages and fallen in behind the band wagon the parade would have been much longer.

ADVERTISING BRINGS RESULTS

The campaign of publicity recently inaugurated by the chamber of commerce is beginning to show actual results outside of the large number of inquiries being received by Secretary Hinton. Among the first arrivals as a direct result of the advertising was Mr. and Mrs. Below, of St. Louis, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Below are domiciled in the Peters cottage on F street On Friday George Hey and family, of Kansas City, who had been in communication with Secretary Hinton, arrived here. They are now at the Southern Hotel while looking for a suitable house.

Letters of inquiry as a result of the advertisements carried in eastern magazines average about six a day; that is, letters from people who mean business and who are looking for a climate in which to seek a cure for tuberculosis. Letters not considered as likely to lead to results, bring the average considered quite satisfactory by the chamber of commerce—Silver City Independent.

FOREST INCENDIARY CONVICTED

On October 8, 1915 the United States Court at Santa Fe sentenced Robert Eames of Clouderoft to 90 days in jail for wilfully setting fire to government timber within the Alamo National forest.

From the evidence obtained during the trial it appears that the frequent occurrence of unexplainable fires led the local Forest Officers to suspect incendiarism. They accordingly lay in ambush one night near a fire which had just been extinguished, and plainly saw the defendant come up, procure a firebrand from a smoldering log, carry it across the firebreak to unburned ground, and light a mass of inflammable material in a place where another serious conflagration would soon have been under way.

MOTHER'S PENSION

Under the Mothers' pension law a woman whose husband is dead may file an application for relief provided she is a citizen of the United States and has a previous residence for three years in the county where such application is made and is the mother of a child or children. The condition upon which relief is granted are outlined in Section 11 of the mothers' pension act, and are as follows:

1. The child or children for whose benefit the relief is granted must be living with the mother of such child or children.

2. The court must find that it is for the welfare of such child or children to remain at home with the mother.

3. The relief shall be granted only when in the absence of such relief the mother would be required to work regularly away from her home and children and when by means of such relief at home with her children except that she may be absent for work a definite number of days each week to be specified in the court's order, when such work can be done by her without the sacrifice of health or the neglect of home and children.

4. Such mother must, in the judgment of the court, be a proper person, physically, mentally and morally fit to bring up her children.

5. The relief granted shall, in the judgment of the court, be necessary to save the child or children from neglect.

6. A mother shall not receive such relief who is the owner of real property or personal property other than the household goods.

7. A mother shall not receive such relief who is not a citizen of this country and who has not resided in the county where the application is made at least three years next before making such application.

8. A mother shall not receive such relief if her child or children have relatives of sufficient ability to support them.
